DIRECTORS' NOTE

What happens when the children of heroes and villains are given the chance to choose who they want to be? That question is at the heart of this story and, honestly, it's one that feels pretty familiar in our Saint Catherine Labouré School hallway.

At its core, Descendants is a musical about empathy, tolerance, and acceptance. Working with this cast has been a reminder that none of us are defined by labels, expectations, or even our past mistakes. Much like Mal, Evie, Jay, and Carlos, these students have spent months discovering their voices, taking risks, building confidence, and learning that who you surround yourself with matters. (And yes, that breaking into spontaneous song and dance can solve more problems than you'd think.)

This production has been filled with laughter, growth, a little bit of chaos, and a whole lot of heart. From missed cues to magical moments, every step of the journey has reflected what makes middle school theater so special: courage, creativity, and kids who are brave enough to try something new.

To our cast and crew: Thank you for your energy, your dedication, and for reminding us that kindness is powerful, friendship is everything, and being yourself is the greatest magic of all.

To our families and SCLS community: Thank you for supporting the arts and these incredible students. Your encouragement helps them shine brighter than any spotlight.

Now come with us on a journey to the magical land of Auradon, and always remember—no matter where you come from, your story isn't written for you... you get to choose it.

Ms. Kenny and Mr. Wallace

SDA wishes the best of luck to Julia Dick, Emma Gutierrez, Lacy Stonesifer and the cast and crew of Descendants Jr!

Jillian Olivia

watching you shine in Descendants has been such a special gift. You stepped into this role with confidence, heart, and a sparkle that is completely your own, and we could not be prouder of the performer-and person-you've become.

From the first rehearsal to the final bow, you've shown dedication, creativity, and a love for the stage that lights up every room you walk into. You bring Evie's charm, humor, and strength to life in a way that feels effortless, and it's been amazing to see you grow through every song, dance, and scene.

But beyond the costume and the crown, what makes us proudest is your kindness, your leadership, and the way you lift up the people around you. You are a loyal friend, a hard worker, and someone who brings joy wherever you go.

As you finish middle school and step into the next chapter, remember this: your talent is real, your heart is big, and your story is just beginning. Keep shining, keep dreaming, and keep being the incredible you that we love so much.

A very special shout out to our 8th graders—this is your final musical at Saint Catherine Labouré School, and what a way to go out! Your leadership, dedication, and spirit have helped shape this production in countless ways. You have set an incredible example for the younger students, and you will be deeply missed on our stage. Thank you for leaving your mark on our program. This is your moment, your time, so shine bright and always remember we are forever in your corner. Love, Ms. Kenny and Mr. Wallace

Jillian, watching you shine as Evie has been pure magic! You've always had style, heart, and just the right amount of sass—Evie would be proud. We love you more than all the enchanted apples in Auradon!  Love, Mom, Dad, Meme, Vallee, and Bean

To our very own Evie—smart, stylish, and stealing the show! You've worked so hard, and it shines brighter than any magic mirror. Keep being confident, kind, and totally

you. Love you to Auradon and back! Memaw, Mepaw, and Porkchop

Addison (the most loyal Royal Page Auradon has ever seen), getting to share this stage with you has made this experience the absolute best. You've been right there through it all (probably keeping me organized like a true Royal Page should). Thank you for being my bestie, my hype girl, and my favorite part of this whole musical. Evie would be lost without her Royal Page, and honestly, so would I. Love, Jillian

Angelina, you're the queen behind the scene, helping to run the show like a total machine. You're the star we don't always see, but you shine backstage. Thank you for all you do to help us and being the best friend, a girl could ask for! Love, Jillian

To my VK besties – Emma, Percy, and Charlie: Being “Rotten to the Core” with you has been the absolute best! We definitely are “better together” and “stronger side by side.” Thank you for making my last musical the best one yet! This truly is “our moment and our time” so let us rock the stage like only VKs can! Love, Jillian

Mirror, mirror, on the wall, who's the most iconic evil mom of all? It's Kakie, ruling every scene, serving the villain-queen realness like it's routine. Eighth grade's our final show and I wouldn't want any other mom in this wicked musical. So here's to my friend, Kakie –Together we slay like a royal dream team. Love, Jillian

Lucy, getting to be dance captains together in our 8th-grade musical has been the best way to end our SCLS time together. You rule the stage as Maleficent, but behind the horns and the magic, you're the same friend who has always been there since we were in Kindergarten. I'm so lucky I get to dance through all of it with you. Love, Jillian

Mom, getting to play Evie while you are the director of Descendants has been one of the most meaningful parts of my 8th-grade year. You've been my real-life guide long before I ever put on a crown, teaching me confidence, kindness, and how to shine without losing who I am. This being our last musical together makes it even more special, and I'm so grateful for every rehearsal, every note, and every moment we've shared. Thank you for believing in me the way Evie believes in herself by the end—because of you, I know I can. Love Always, Jillian

Emma, getting to play Evie next to your Mal has made this show a musical I will never forget. You bring so much strength, attitude, and heart to the stage. I'm really grateful we get to share this Descendants adventure together—there's no Mal I'd rather stand beside. Love, Jillian

Kakie and Lucy – Congrats on a great show! Love you forever! Love, Julia

Lacy, Congratulations on your third performance with SCLS. We are so proud of all your hard work and determination. Love, Mom and Morgan
